YOUTH EDUCATION IS TOMORROW'S SUCCESS

Founder & Chairperson

Dr. Rashmi Mantri holds a PhD from the University of West of Scotland where she received a 'one of its kind' scholarship! She is affectionately addressed as Dr. Rashmi by her students, which, she thinks, has a nice ring to it. Having worked as an educator and in community development for over 15 years, she believes that the world can be changed through youth education.

She strongly believes she has the best job in the world! Kids start at the British Youth International College without having seen an abacus before, nor any coding experience and hiccups in speaking English confidently. On such a background, to see them master the techniques, progress the levels and enjoy working so hard truly brings her utmost joy.

Witnessing her students develop such confidence and watching parents getting involved at every step of the way is nothing short of magic.

However, there is another cherry on the top. The finest aspect of the BYITC community lies in the fact that it was founded by Dr. Rashmi Mantri and her son, Dhruv Maheshwari. The foundation has been designed meticulously for all students by exceptional teachers, without forgetting the importance of all parents.

After great success in the UK, US, Australia, & Middle East, we are now in India to welcome you into our family!

Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam!

Dr. Rashmi Mantri

“Youth is tomorrow's future and if they have the right direction then a country can achieve its full potential.”

Introduction

The British Youth International College is dedicated to its mission of enabling children to develop and acquire skills for a brighter tomorrow. Our English language curriculum has been designed by Cambridge certified professionals to ensure that your child benefits from the very best that our institute has to offer. As a universal language, English has become a requirement in most careers.

The fields of business, trade, politics, science, and healthcare have increasingly stressed upon the need of communication and being fluent in English is an advantage that cannot be ignored. Our English language programme, designed for children and adults alike, aims to enable students to master the English language while learning how to effectively use the language for academics and communication.

What we do

In an increasingly globalised world, there are a plethora of English language courses available at the click of a button. We are aware of the competition around us and we strive to stand out in the crowd. Our team is passionate and invested in the journey of your child, and this is reflected in our course.

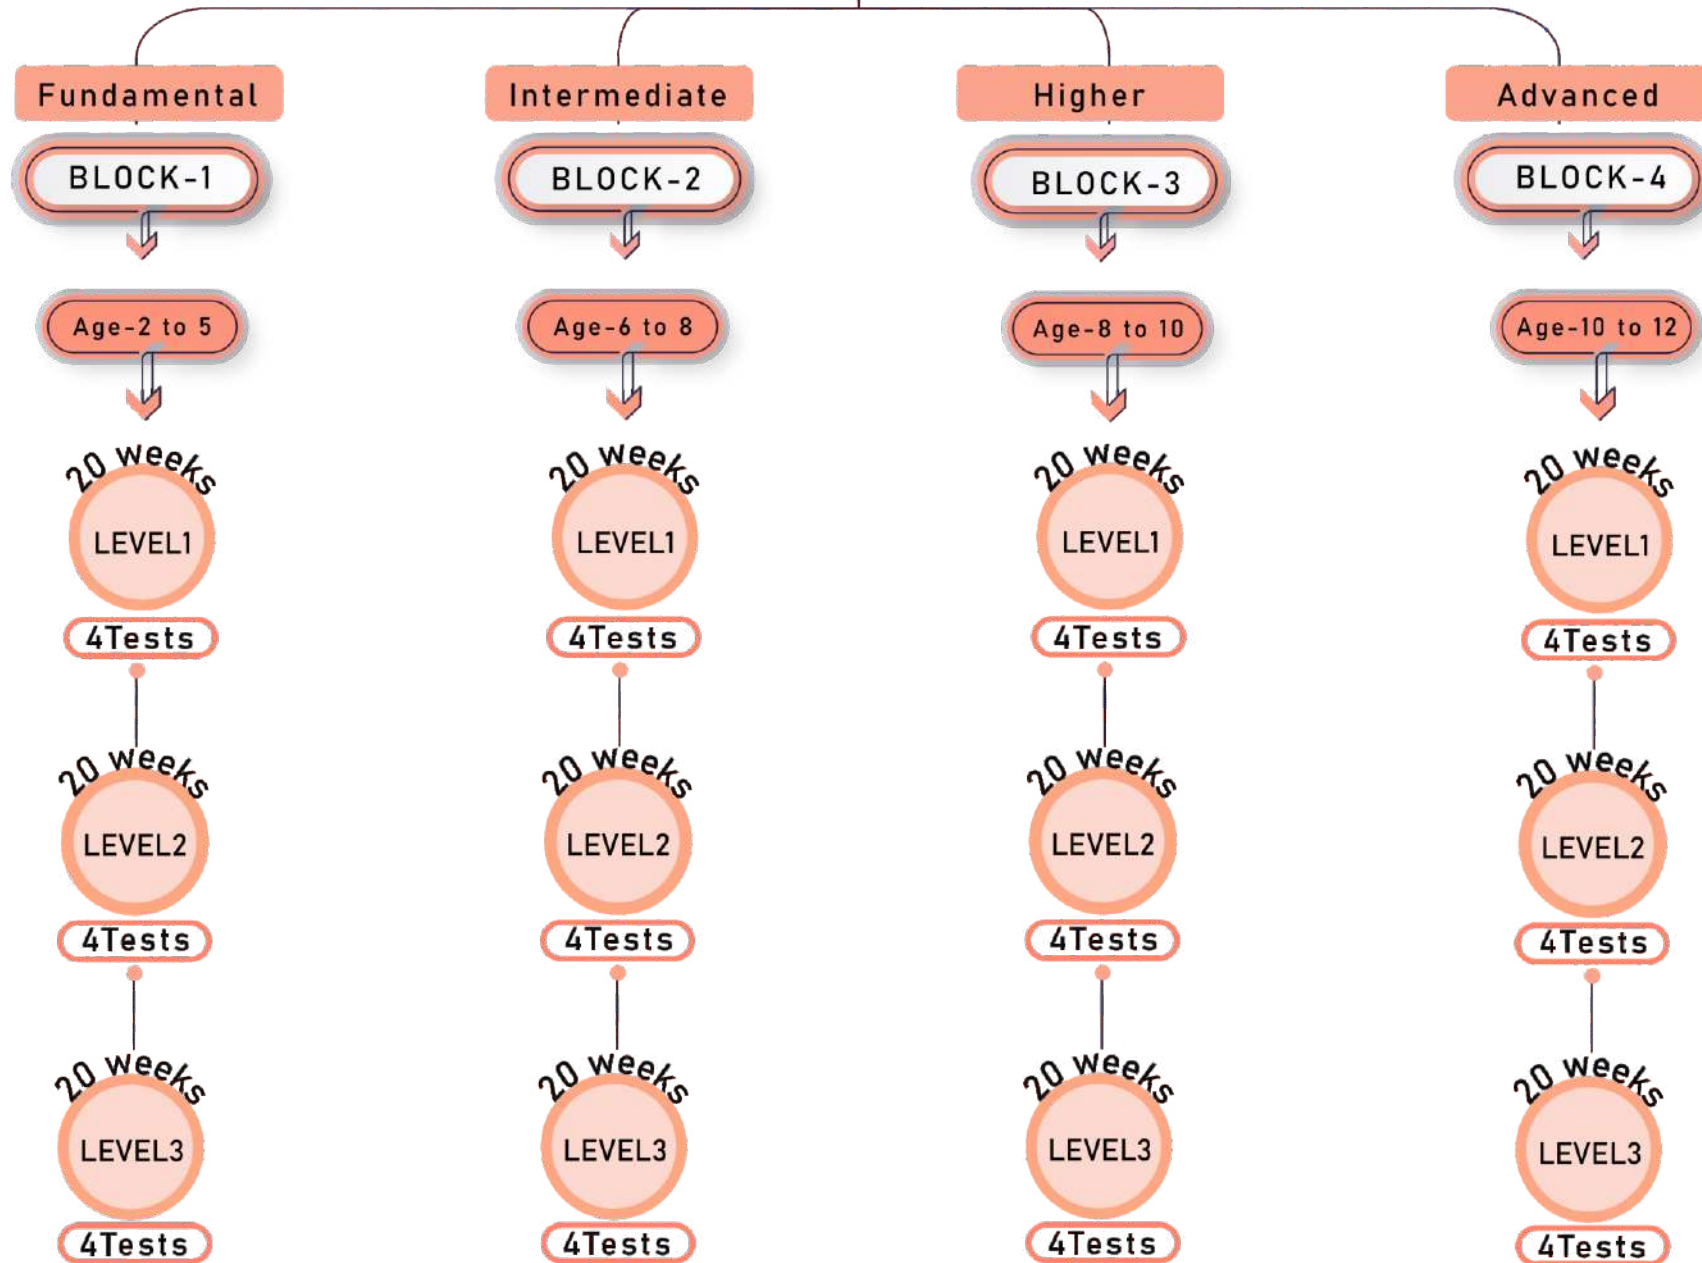

- Our course is made up of 12 levels, each level spanning 20 weeks with regular tests to continuously assess the progress of your child.
- Each week typically consists of different skills and functions of the language to promote holistic development of the child.
- Our course includes regular exercises in vocabulary building, punctuations, grammar, reading comprehension, spelling, and communication.
- We also offer creative writing and research-oriented exercises to expose students to an international culture of creative and academic writing.

Our Offerings

Reading Comprehension

- Reading comprehension is a key component of our English programme. Reading is a key skill in any language, and it is crucial that students not only learn to read, but also to understand what they are reading.
- We provide students with a wide range of age-appropriate reading material such as fiction, nonfiction, poetry, news articles, academic and scientific journal extracts, etc that educates as well as encourages them to critically read a piece of writing.

Grammar

- Grammar is the foundation of a language and learning the fundamentals of the language is crucial in gaining proficiency in a language. Grammar rules are important for effective communication, such as understanding the formal/informal, or the use of imperatives and statives in daily communication.
- Command over these fundamentals along with the language skills enable a child to understand the subtle nuances of a language and we strive to ingrain these fundamentals right from the start.

Vocabulary & Spelling

- Vocabulary is the basis of communication. The larger your vocabulary, the more effective the communication. Along with encouraging students to expand their vocabulary, we stress on learning correct spellings as well.
- In an age of automatic spell-checkers it is still important to learn correct spelling as very often, meanings of words change due to incorrect spelling, thus leading to miscommunication and misunderstandings.

Our Offerings

Creative Writing

- Children are naturally creative and explorative. Given the right tools and proper guidance, they can learn to hone their skills and develop their creative writing.
- Under creative writing, we introduce our students to different forms of creative writing which gives them a chance to choose the style they are most comfortable with and build upon that style during the course.
- Creative writing requires a certain amount of fluency in the language along with a firm understanding of grammar. However, we do encourage our students to write their best and provide feedback on their work to help them improve with each piece they write.
- We also organise specialised creative writing workshops during the year for students to participate in a more focused session and enhance their writing skills.

Confidence Building

- Confidence stems from knowledge. When a child is aware that they are doing well and are able to converse without much difficulty, their confidence increases, and they are more likely to speak out in public.
- Our classes encourage students to speak and write in English in an environment that is conducive to their growth.
- Along with acquiring a language, children acquire soft skills such as public speaking, presentation, and objectively communicating arguments.
- Children are encouraged to research and analyse information they did not have previously and are taught the correct methods of doing so.

Fun and Engaging Way of Learning

Learning English couldn't be more fun. We use quizzes, activities, and word searches in our exercises to make learning interactive and learner centred.
